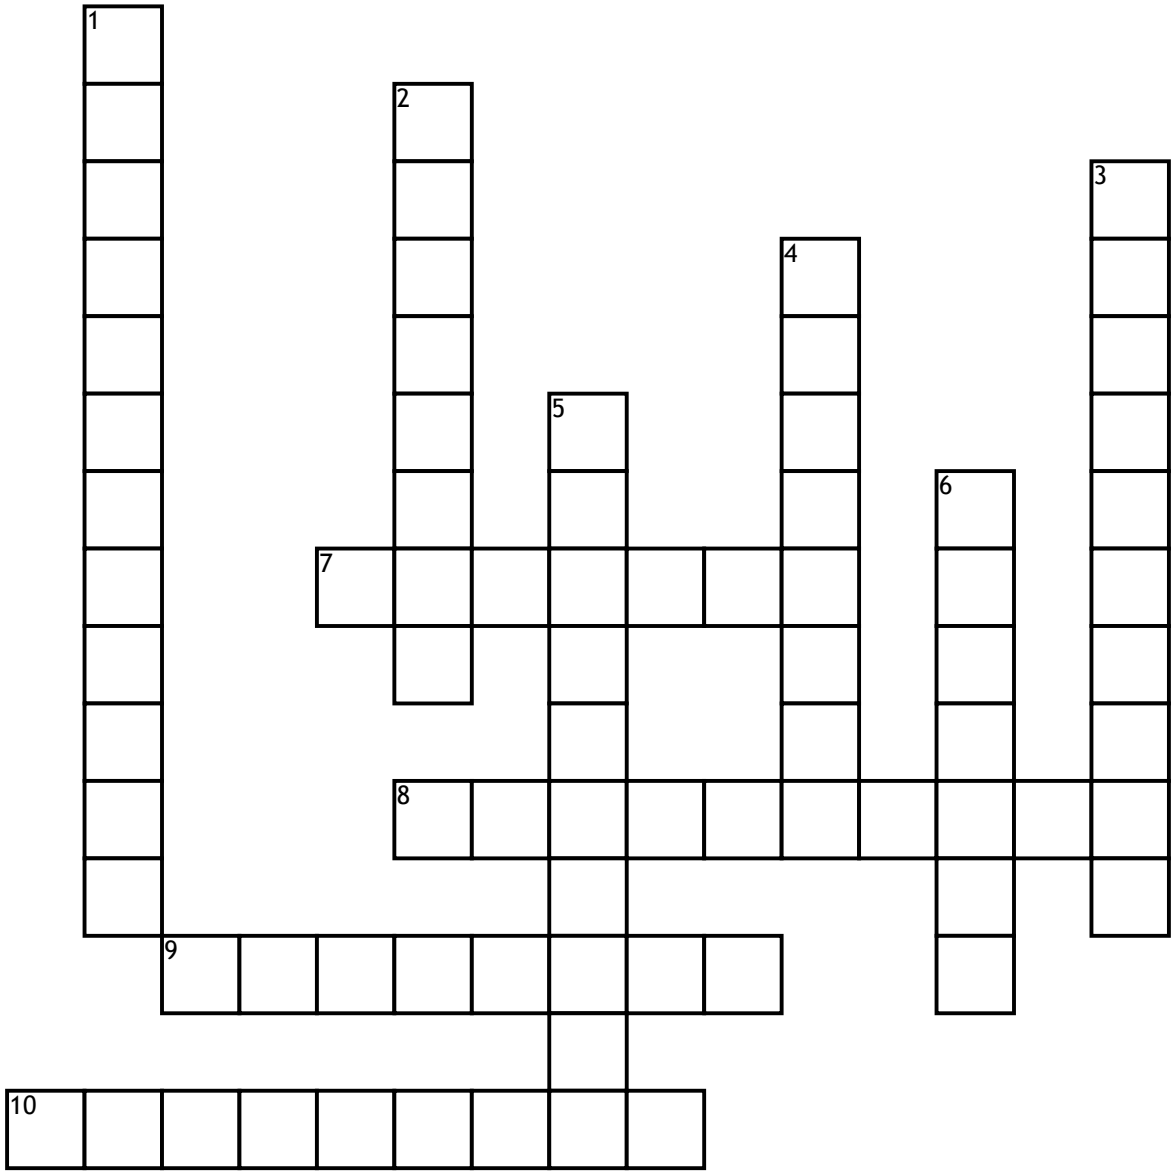
Normal development



Across

7. an organic chemical substance that is produced by one body tissue and conveyed via the bloodstream to another to affect some physiological function
8. The practical use of language that includes the ability to adjust language communication according to audience and context
9. Repeated, systematic efforts to inflict harm through physical, verbal, or social attack on a weaker person
10. Petty, peevish arguing, usually repeated and ongoing

Down

1. A brain area that responds to the amygdala and the hippocampus to produce hormones that activate other parts of the brain and body
2. The primary stress hormone; fluctuations in the body's cortisol level affect human emotion
3. A single word that is used to express a complete, meaningful thought
4. Unusual difficulty with reading; thought to be the result of some neurological underdevelopment
5. Repeatedly thinking and talking about past experiences ; can contribute to depression
6. The belief that natural objects and phenomena are alive

Create your own puzzle at WordMint.com or print one of our 500,000+ pre-made word searches, crosswords, and more.