

Name: _____

Date: _____

1920s

Across

1. The belief that it is good to spend lots of money on goods and services.

3. One of the most profound fashion designers and style icons who revolutionized women's fashion.

4. An advocate for women's suffrage who played a huge role in the passing and ratification of the 19th Amendment.

8. An actor, writer and trendsetter who promotes the classic "flapper" look.

9. An underground bar which sells illegal liquor.

10. The Amendment that put prohibition into effect.

11. The Amendment that gave women the right to vote.

12. The actions and attitude of people who are influenced strongly by the wanting of money and goods.

Down

2. The period of time in which African American people established their culture through music, art, poetry, and other cultural arts.

5. Also known as "Lipstick," this women is a popular writer for the New Yorker and is the epitome of a flapper.

6. A fashionable woman who's actions and clothing style defies the social norms of what women should be.

7. The act that bans the production, distribution and purchasing of alcohol.