

9.1 Application Crossword Puzzle

Across

7. individuals can decide what goods and services should be produced

8. this economy is based on customs and historical precedent

9. What kind of economy is the United States?

10. an economic system that is centrally controlled by a powerful government

Down

1. this man provided the ideology behind many command economies

2. it adds to the number of potential workers, increasing the supply for labor

3. an example of this economy is the United Kingdom

4. the relocation of a company's production to another country

5. occurs when a business delegates certain responsibilities to a third party company

6. this man believed free market systems were the best way to organize the economy