

ANSC 201 Reproductive Crossword Puzzle

Across

2. What term is known as the process of giving birth?
3. The ovarian structure responsible for production of progesterone for support of pregnancy
7. Which ligament (in females) attaches the uterus to the pelvis?
11. This is the male steroid sex hormone
13. Term used to describe when an animal has difficulty giving birth

14. Gonadotropic hormone responsible for growth, development, and maintenance of follicles in females, and the production of sperm in males
15. What organ surround the fetus and unites it to the female while it develops in the uterus?
16. This is the female sex steroid hormone produced by the corpus luteum and the placenta

Down

1. What condition (in cattle) results in a female calf being born with a bull calf and causes infertility?

4. This is the term for sexual drive
5. What is the gamete from a female called?
6. Feeding extra feed to stimulate estrus and ovulation rates is known as?
8. These are mature sperm in the male and the egg (ova) in the female
9. What is the period when a female is receptive to mating?
10. This is the first milk given to the young by the female after birth
12. This is known as the release of the ova (egg) from the ovary