

Action Theories

Across

- 3. meanings are potentially unstable and unclear
5. the sociologist who created the basis for the rest of the interactionists
7. the idea that our self concept arises out of the ability to take the role of the other.
8. a type of action where the actor calculates the most efficient means of achieving a given goal

- 9. a type of action that involves customary, routine or habitual actions
10. meanings are potentially unclear
11. the idea that before we respond to the stimulus, we interpret the meaning
12. a type of action that expresses emotion

Down

- 1. the concept which describes how the actor has to control the impression that our performance gives
2. something that stands for or represents something else
4. the stages through which an individual progresses in their occupation
6. how someone who occupies a particular status is expected to act