

All About Bacterial Infections

Across

3. Penicillin resistant bacteria contain this enzyme
6. This test is used to determine the antibiotics needed for the infection
8. This type of spectrum drug works by targeting a single or selective type of microbes
9. This type of spectrum targets a large range of microbes that can be either gram negative or gram positive
11. This type of agent has the ability to prevent

12. Antibiotic discovered by Sir Arthur Fleming

13. Antibiotics such as sulfonamides, tetracyclines can cause this adverse effect that appears like a bad sunburn

Down

1. A person can develop a _____ where they become infected with another microorganism and it then becomes resistant to the broad spectrum antibiotic for the first infection.

2. When bacteria have developed mutations and are no longer susceptible to a particular antibiotic

4. _____ is taken to determine the microorganism causing the infection

5. At high doses this antibiotic can cause kidney and ear toxicity

7. a type of infection that is acquired in a health care setting and it is complicated to treat

10. Agent that have the ability to kill bacteria