

"All the Light we Cannot See"

Across

3. A tree cut back nearly to the trunk, so as to produce a dense mass of branches.

6. A mineral coal containing little of the volatile hydrocarbons and burning almost without flame; hard coal.

9. Pertaining to or of the nature of rheumatism.

14. To stimulate by or as if a galvanic current.

15. German word for Circular headquarters.

17. The art of performing and preserving the skins of animals and of stuffing and mounting them in life-like form.

19. A mineral, manganese carbonate, $MnCO_3$, commonly containing some iron and some calcium, and usually rose-red in color; a minor ore of manganese; manganese spar.

20. To expose to the action or effect of air or to cause to circulate through.

Down

1. A bakery that specializes in baking and selling bread.

2. Any of a class of organic compounds containing the group C,H,O, which yields acids when oxidized and alcohols when reduced.

4. Netted; covered with a network.

5. Very loud or powerful in sound.

7. A book in the Bible.

8. Giving distinct vision obliquely, or all around, as well, or instead of, in a direct line.

10. Pertaining to or affected with goiter.

11. Incapable of being tired out; not yielding to fatigue; untiring.

12. An utterance of good wishes.

13. A pane like ornament composed of four lobes, divided by cusps, radiating from a common center.

16. portending evil or harm; foreboding; threatening; inauspicious.

18. A legendary sea monster causing large whirl pools off the coast of Norway.