

Name: _____

Anthropology

Across

2. The study of the origin, behaviour and the physical, social and cultural development of humans
5. The in-depth description of one culture
7. The study of the anatomy and the behaviours of living primates
9. The study of the genetic differences between people and population to understand the differences in people
11. Stage of ritual where the person is separated from society
12. The study and comparison of the past and contemporary cultures
15. Ceremonies that mark a persons' progress from one role, phase of life or social status to another

16. The study where anthropologists excavate remains of past cultures to reconstruct and understand them
17. Social activities that mark events and are traditional since they have been repeated over time
18. stage of ritual where the person learns a new role
19. A symbolic communication system that is learned
20. Stage of rituals where the person is re-admitted into society

Down

1. A major evolutionary adaptation that gave us the ability to walk on two legs
3. A system of shared beliefs, values, customs, behaviours and artifacts that help humans cope with the world and eachother

4. Type of language that includes speaking and writing
6. The theory which states that plants and animals change/adapt to their environments in order to best survive
8. Every culture has its own set of _____ associated with different experiences and perception
10. Type of language that includes body language, tone, image and proximity
13. A great thinker that studied plant and animal life on the Galapagos Island
14. A culture within a larger culture