

Argumentative Essay

Across

1. Which sentence is your "come back" to your claim?
6. The claim introduces the essay's what?
10. Which sentence links one paragraph to the next?
11. Which paragraph/s contains the Topic Sentence?
13. Where is the Lead sentence located in the Introduction Paragraph?
14. Which sentence grabs the readers attention?

15. Which sentence addresses the main focus of the essay?
 17. How many paragraphs should your essay be?
 18. The first sentence of a body paragraph is the what?
- Down
2. Where is the claim located in the Introduction paragraph?
 3. You should have no more than how many pieces of evidence per paragraph?
 4. What is the opposing view called?

5. Which sentence leaves the reader thinking?
7. Which information supports/proves the main point?
8. Which paragraph contains the counterclaim restated?
9. Which paragraph contains the claim?
12. What information must be in the Topic Sentence?
16. The Introduction paragraph introduces the essay's what?

Word Bank

Topic	Last	Transition	Body Paragraph	Lead
Clincher	Point	First	Evidence	Counterclaim
Claim	Topic sentence	Introduction	Five	Rebuttal
Summary	Focus	Two		