

Book Words

Across

- 2. Clues the author gives that allude to later events
- 4. What is it called when you have an antagonist or protagonist struggle?
- 6. Uncomplicated characters
- 7. A major character or leading character
- 14. How does an author shape themes?
- 16. An account of connected events
- 17. A character who does not change
- 20. What is a direct and specific meaning called?
- 21. The author's attitude
- 22. Evoked feelings

- 24. The conflict is worked out
 - 25. A character who changes throughout the story
- Down
- 1. The action that occurs after the climax and conflict have been resolved.
 - 3. Parts of a story that relate back to something that already happened
 - 5. The action that sets the conflict in motion
 - 8. Incidents that rise to the greatest point of interest
 - 9. What is an addition meaning of a word called?
 - 10. The events that make up the story

- 11. A complex character displaying multiple character traits
- 12. The main idea that runs through the story
- 13. The narrator's position on telling the story
- 15. Imaginary story
- 18. What a person called who is hostile or adversarial in a story?
- 19. A device that introduces information about events, settings, etc.
- 23. What is the point in a story called when it hits the highest point of tension or conflict?

Word Bank

Plot	Denotation	Narrative	Conflict	Theme
Falling action	Mood	Tone	Resolution	Inciting Incident
Round Character	Dynamic Character	Foreshadowing	Exposition	Antagonist
Flat character	Fiction	Flashback	Point-of-View	Rising Action
Static character	Climax	Allusion	Protagonist	Connotation