

CROSSWORD #1 by Lafn

Across

2. Danish _____ is a mess!
 5. The action to indicate "I am hearing" to the speaker
 8. A group of languages around the Arctic Ocean, famous for as polysynthetic languages
 10. A language in Ghana, belonging to the Gbe languages
 12. A language isolate in Asia
 14. A grammatical feature to categorize noun classes
 16. Different meaning related by metaphorical or metonymic extension
 18. Insular Celtic languages are famous for this in the beginning of a word

20. A language in Tungusic family
 21. One of the languages famous for consonantal nucleus syllables
 22. The phonological process of adjusting two adjacent sounds according to the feature of one of them
 23. A pointing relation between a linguistic sign and its context of utterance

Down

1. The name of a group of Austronesian languages famous for markers for dynamic and stative verbs
 3. "He changed linguistics"
 4. The phonological process when many people pronounce "nuclear" in another way
 6. A type of affixes found in many Afro-Asiatic languages
 7. A common kind of binary possessive class system
 9. A way to create new words by literal translation
 11. The use of different stems in a paradigm
 13. Words identical in forms, such as night and knight
 15. The name of "phonemes" in sign languages
 17. The Sanskrit word for Sanskrit
 19. A kind of ingressive consonants