

CUE DEPENDENT REMEMBERING

Across

2. Who were the psychologists who used divers as their participants when looking at context-dependent forgetting? (the 'and' is included)
3. Being drunk when you learn something and when you recall it is an example of which kind of cue?
5. Whose study is used as a strategy to improve eye-witness memory?
8. Its a form of forgetting
9. Forgetting will occur when the contexts of learning and recall are
10. The reason for people forgetting information may be due to a lack of...

Down

1. Endel Tulving summarised his research into retrieval failure as the principle
4. A cue is a of information that allows us to access a memory
6. The number of experimental conditions used by Smith (1970)
7. Acronym to use when writing an evaluation essay
11. Which of the studies we looked at had the highest ecological validity?