

Ch.11&12 by Tevin Neugebauer

Across

2. One of the most well-known rivers in the world.
3. The tallest and most famous of its mountains which legend says was the home of the gods of Greek mythology.
5. The busiest waterway in Europe.
14. Borders Sweden's southern and southeastern coasts.
15. An international agency to supervise the coal and steel industries in France, West Germany, Belgium, the Netherlands, Luxembourg, and Italy.
17. Form the northern border of Italy and separate the Italian peninsula from the rest of Europe.

18. The tallest mountain in the Pyrenees—reaches a height of 11,169 feet (3,404 m).

19. cyclists racing through the rolling French countryside during a yearly sports event

20. Has a spine of rugged mountains, formed when two tectonic plates collided.

Down

1. make trade among its member nations easier.
4. The most important body of water in Southern Europe
6. Europe's major religion.
7. Which also empties into the North Sea.

8. This mountain range stretches 270 miles (435 km) from east to west.

9. Brings warm water to the southern and western coasts of Iceland.

10. Has rugged terrain, but it formed from volcanic activity.

11. The most common climate in Southern Europe.

12. The part of the Atlantic Ocean that separates southern England from northern France.

13. Divided geographically by the Tagus River.

16. An area of land surrounded on three sides by water.