

Ch. 15 Pharmacology

Across

1. The study of all drugs, their properties and how they react
4. Regulates blood sugar
11. USED TO DILATE BLOOD VESSELS
12. What drug causes loss of pain but not loss of all sensation
17. Reduces the number and severity of seizures
18. Drugs that have the least potential for abuse
19. Effective against a wide range of bacteria
21. The study of the stages of drug action in the body
22. Injection of a substance under the epidermis
23. Treats inflammation

24. Injection of a substance into the muscle tissue
 25. prevents ovulation
 26. Ethical drugs are dispensed only when a customer gives the pharmacist a correctly written prescription signed by a doctor with his or her
 27. What is directly below the heading in a prescription
 28. What drug promotes relaxation
- Down
2. Bulging of the eyeballs
 3. A drug that slows down body processes
 5. Drugs that are used as premedications before general anesthesia
 6. Injection of a substance directly into the vein

7. Induces clotting
8. What gives the power of enforcement of this act to the DEA
9. Drug that cause people to see and hear images and sounds that do not exist
10. Drugs that are applied in a specific area are termed what
13. Where the dentist signs his or her name on a prescription
14. When a person is physically dependent on a drug
15. Causing a person to need larger amounts of the drug
16. when the chemical transforms and acts on the cells of a living organism
20. Has a high potential for abuse and no accepted medical use