

Chapter 1 Crossword

Across

5. a part of a biome in which abiotic components interact with biotic components

6. a graph of climate data for a specific region

10. a symbiotic relationship in which one species benefits and another is harmed

12. a symbiotic relationship between two organisms in which both organisms benefit

13. a harmful interaction between two or more organisms that can occur when organisms compete for the same resource

Down

1. a symbiotic relationship in which one species benefits and the other species is neither helped nor harmed

2. predator-prey interactions in which one organism eats all or part of another organism

3. living parts of the environment

4. the average conditions of the atmosphere

7. non-living parts of the environment

8. the largest division of the biosphere

9. the specific role an organism plays in an ecosystem

11. characteristics that enable organisms to better survive and reproduce