

Chapter 28 intellectual property

1. personal property that includes knowledge, ways of doing things, and expressions of ideas A. cybersquatting
2. specialized knowledge associated with a business, including information gained during employment about such matters as manufacturing processes, practices, devices, customer lists another confidential information B. Trade secret
3. a statute that makes the misappropriation or outright theft of trade secrets a federal crime C. fair use
4. an agreement in which the employee agrees not to work in similar employment within a certain geographic area or with any specified period D. infringement
5. an agreement in which the seller of a business agrees not to begin or operate a similar business within a certain geographic area or within a specified period E. trade dress
6. any word, name, symbol, or device or combination thereof adopted and used by a manufacturer or merchant to identify his or her goods and distinguish them from goods manufactured or sold by others F. restrictive covenant
7. A distinctive, nonfunctional feature that distinguishes a merchant's or manufacturer's goods or services from those of another G. Trademark
8. registering or using another person's or company's domain name in bad faith for the purpose of earning a profit H. patent
9. a valid, government granted protection given to creators of literary, creative, or artistic works I. agreement not to compete
10. copying and others literary, creative, or artistic works without permission J. Copyright
11. limited copying allowed when the copyrighted material is copied without authorization for use in connection with criticism, news reporting, research, education, or parody K. design patent
12. a test that is used to determine whether an ordinary reasonable observer comparing 2 works would have to conclude that the work being questioned was copied from the other L. intellectual property
13. the valid, government granted protection awarded to inventors that gives the patent holder the exclusive right to manufacture, use, and sell the invention M. substantial similarity test
14. a patent awarded to individuals or business firms to protect distinctive patterns, colors, sounds, smells, and shapes and to prevent unauthorized copying N. E. Espionage Act 1996