

Chapter 3: Health Information Functions, Purpose and Users

Across

- 3. contains information relating to the physical or mental health or condition of an individual
- 10. raw facts and figures
- 14. process of extracting and analyzing large volumes of data from a database for the purpose of identifying hidden and sometimes subtle relationships
- 16. scans the paper record and stores it digitally
- 17. a patient has more than one health record number at different locations in an enterprise
- 18. ongoing manner while the patient is still in the healthcare facility
- 19. review of the health record to determine if there are any missing reports, forms or signatures

- 20. is a clarification made to healthcare documentation after the original document has been signed
- Down
- 1. process of disclosing patient-identifiable information from the health record to another party
 - 2. data that is turned into something meaningful
 - 4. an additional information provided in the health record
 - 5. links the patient's information at different facilities
 - 6. data that has been extracted from an individual health records and combined to form deidentified information about group of patients that can be compared and analyzed

- 7. basic information about the patient such as their name, address, DOB, and insurance information
- 8. monitoring the quality of documentation
- 9. reviewed after the patient is discharged from the healthcare facility
- 11. results when the patient has two or more health record numbers issued
- 12. assigning codes to represent diagnoses and procedures, key responsibility of the HIM department
- 13. permanent record of all patients treated at a healthcare facility
- 15. a patient is erroneously assigned another person's health record number