

Child Development

Across

12. Loss of special attention and favored status at the birth of the second child.
 13. The awareness that specific object are real and part of the world.
 14. Twins who come from one fertilized that for unknown reason splits into two; have the same heredity.
 15. Parents who let their children do whatever they want.

Down

1. The idea that some of an object's characteristics can be change while other remain the same.

2. Twins who develop from two different eggs fertilized by different heredity
 3. Swiss Zoologist and psychologists who studied his children and animal.
 4. A person's surroundings, which have an influence on a person's characteristics and development.
 5. Have few rules and demands and are uninvolved and uninterested in their child's life, they are also insensitive to their child's need and very self-absorbed.
 6. environment
 7. Children who are raised as animals.

8. A relationship that goes in one or the other direction.
 9. The automatic, orderly, sequential process of physical and mental development.
 10. Patterns of development in which some areas develop more rapidly and some more slowly, but all in a way pre planned by nature.
 11. Basic unit of heredity