

Name: _____

Date: _____

Cognitive Psychology Crossword

Across

3. Contemporary study aim: To investigate the development of the in children between 5-17 using digit span.

4. Henry Molaison is a case study that we can use when studying cognitive psychology but what part of his brain was removed to treat his epilepsy?

6. Classic Study Aim: To investigate the influence of acoustic and word similarity on learning and recall in short term and long term memory

9. How many men and women were used in the classic study

10. One weakness of the working memory model is that another component was added later. Name this component?

11. What was the story called that Bartlett used to investigate his theory of Reconstructive memory?

12. In the working memory model, the phonological loop is made up of the articulatory loop and what other component?

13. Baddeley and Hitch created the working memory model. But does this focus on the short term or long term memory?

14. What is the mode of representation for the short term memory in the multi store model

15. According to the multistore model what occurs if information is not rehearsed?

Down

1. What is the name of Tulving's model for memory?

2. Cognitive psychology compares our brain to working like a what?

5. Atkinson and Shiffrin (1968), created which model for memory?

7. How many participants were used in the contemporary study

8. Your first kiss, is an example of what type of memory?