

Cognitive memory theory crossword

Across

4. It controls attention and coordinates the actions of 'slave systems'

7. It binds together all information from the other components and was added to the WMM in 2000

9. It stores and manipulates visual information

10. When fragments of stored information are reassembled during recall and the gaps are filled by our expectations to produce a 'story' that makes sense

11. How information is passed from STM to LTM

12. It rehearses information verbally like an inner voice

13. It deals with auditory information and is divided into 2 parts

Down

1. Process of transferring information from LTM to STM

2. It holds the words you hear like an inner ear

3. The converting of and format in which information is stored in the memory stores

5. A mental structure of beliefs and expectations which influence cognitive processing

6. Memories that make up our knowledge like a mental encyclopaedia

8. Refers to the ability to recall events from our lives like a mental diary