

Communication

Across

- 3. A communication between people of different cultural groups or subgroups.
6. These are norms, behaviors, and practices of people.
9. A latin word which means to cultivate, nurture or to tend to the Earth and grow.
12. Form of intercultural communication between people having different ethnic origins.
15. Members of the co-culture when they seem to do as possible with the dominant group's members.
16. Regarded for using non-verbal and indirect forms of communication.
17. A style of handling conflict in a multicultural environment wherein people explore conflict through direct, rational arguments and limit the expression of their personal feelings.

18. Strategy of penetrating the co-cultural world wherein a person wants to join members of the dominant group.

- 19. Is a negative attitude towards a cultural group base on a little or no experience.
20. Is the exchange of information and meaning.

Down

- 1. Advocates respect for cultural uniqueness and adherence to the principle of cultural diversity.
2. The recognition and valuing of differences, encompassing factors such as age, gender or race.
4. A style of handling conflict in a multicultural environment wherein people are highly direct, engaging and emotionally expressive.

5. Advocates respect for cultural uniqueness and adherence to the principle of cultural diversity.

- 7. People tend to resist interacting with the other members they consider outsiders.
8. The overt actions one takes to exclude, avoid or distance oneself from other groups.
10. Refers to the usage of body language, gestures, eye-contacts etc.
11. Oversimplified or distorted views of another race, another ethnic group or even another culture.
13. It is the tendency to see own culture as superior to all others.
14. This idea is where people engaged with people from distinctly different cultures.