

Computing crossword

Across

2. _____ is created using a programming language, it is the non physical part of a computer
3. What is the process by which a large problem, can be broken down into smaller, simpler problems
6. Another name for information is _____
9. information that goes into the computer (ang. punit)
10. What makes creating software, websites and apps possible, through putting information into a program

11. A computer _____ is a collection of instructions or algorithms, designed to simplify a process (ang. rommegrap)
12. when you choose part of something
13. A _____ of computers linked all over the word
14. A peice of information in a programme that we want to store, but is able to change

Down

1. A term used to describe the decision making process, used in programming and writing algorithm

4. _____ is the physical part of the computer, using electrical signals to complete calulations, allowing the software to run
5. The action where the computer programme is checked, to make sure it works
7. Information that comes out of a computer (touput)
8. What language do computers use (ang. yinarb)