

Concepts of Computing

Across

2. Electronic equipment dumped in landfills.
 4. Third step in the Information Processing Cycle.
 6. A device measured diagonally in inches.
 9. A storage device that uses electronic memory to store data.
 11. small pictures on the desktop that you can click to start a program or to open a file.

12. Technology where the Operating System automatically detects and configures a device.

13. The time it takes to change a pixel from one colour to another.

Down

1. term used to describe using computers in a way that is sensitive to the environment.
 3. A place on the Taskbar that displays updates, the current time and status of your computer.

5. Less clutter and wider range of movement.

7. Each application, file or folder that you open is displayed in a separate.....

8. A combination of menus and toolbars into a new component used in Microsoft Office.

10. a keyboard key used to cancel an option or to get back to where you were.