

Consumers and Decomposers

Across

4. What is the name of something that eats plant and animals for energy
7. What is the source of energy for the producer plant
8. What is the name of something that eats dead plants or animals and breaks them down to put nutrients in the soil
9. What is the fourth tropic level after producers called
10. What is a consumer that eats both plants and animals called

Down

1. What is an organism that eats primary consumers for energy called
2. What is a consumer that only eats meat called
3. What is a consumer that only eats plants called
5. What is the name of something that makes its own food
6. What does all energy originally come from