

Cos II Practice Mistakes

Across

2. Hydroxide chemical relaxers break disulfide bonds and convert them to
 4. The type of immunity that the body develops after overcoming a disease or through inoculations is
 9. All natural hair color is the result of pigment located in the cortex called
 12. A severe type of dandruff characterized by an accumulation of greasy or waxy scalp scales mixed with sebum is 13. Chemical services performed on hair with low porosity require a solution that is 15. The most frequently encountered infection on the foot resulting from nail services is 16. The technical term for gray hair is
 17. An infestation of the hair and scalp with head lice is

19. A small, cone-shaped area located at the base of the hair follicle that fits into the hair bulb is the
 20. A condition that is characterized by brittleness and the formation of nodular swellings along the hair shaft is

Down

1. The pocket or tube-like depression in the scalp or skin that contains the hair root is the
 3. Lines a constant distance apart in the same direction that are used to create width in a hair design are
 5. The five main structures of the hair root include all of the following except the
 6. A lengthwise section of hair shows that cuticle scales overlap and each individual cuticle scale is attached to the

7. Tinea is characterized by itching scales and sometimes painful circular lesions and is caused by
 8. Which layer of the hair shaft creates the shine and the smooth, silky feel of healthy hair?
 10. The medulla, the innermost layer of the hair, is composed of cells that are 11. Universal Precautions for bloodborne pathogens are regulated by 14. The element of hair design that defines form and space is
 18. The element used to define texture and line and tie design elements together is