

Criminology 204

Across

3. One of the main reasons cyberterrorists use the internet/computers

4. The name of the profile used by an undercover police officer to lure online sex offenders

10. One of the three approaches used prior to the pro-arrest policy

11. I am a characteristic of police culture

12. Refers to a broad range of different criminal activities where computers and information systems are involved either as a primary tool or target

14. A term coined by American security expert named Barry Collin in the 1980s

16. Normalisation of sexual activity, building trust and luring children to meet up is known as

18. Whose death were the Ferguson riots based on?

19. Almost 950 'stops' were made in 1981 in resulting in 118 arrests - more than half the people were Black.

Down

1. Those who are liaisons between policy-makers and citizens

2. Level 1 on the COPINE scale

5. A model of policing that allows police and residents to work together in new ways - policing by consent is core to this model

6. traditional crimes that the advancement of the internet has enabled to evolve

7. The onion router

8. World's largest international police organisation

9. Normally never meeting the victim is a characteristic of a obsessed talker

13. A fraudulent email stating your great grandfather left you 2 million dollars, so you have to provide your bank account number and password - is a cybercrime known as

15. An organisation that supports law enforcement throughout the European Union

17. A process of preventing or detecting crime, though it is not limited to the police