

Cue For Treason

1. Who is the protagonist of the novel Cue For Treason?
A. Geoffrey Trease
2. Who is the author of Cue For Treason?
B. Climax
3. An undeveloped character.
C. Dénouement
4. The fairy godmother and the handsome prince are examples of what type of character?
D. Setting
5. The first major conflict which triggers the rising action.
E. Flat character
6. Introduction of the reader to the setting, the main characters, the main action of the plot.
F. Stock character
7. Series of events which leads to the climax.
G. Introduction/Exposition
8. The highest point of action in which complication is resolved.
H. Rising Action
9. The opposing force of two characters.
I. Conflict
10. Falling action after the climax.
J. Complication
11. The time, place and atmosphere in which a story, play, novel, or poem takes place.
K. Peter Brownrigg