

Culture Crossword

Across

- 3. The development of photography in the 19th century provided this to memorialise the deceased
- 9. The people Madagascar honor their deceased in this practice by digging up their remains and dressing them in new clothing
- 10. An American company that presses the ashes of the deceased into diamonds
- 11. Roadside memorials that honor cyclists that have been killed in road accidents
- 13. The people of Papua New Guinea practice this
- 15. In this Native American practice the body of the deceased are placed on a platform 8 feet above the ground for a year and treated as they are still alive.
- 16. This funeral involves be buried in biodegradable coffins

- 17. One of the oldest rituals that took place along the Andres mountains, bodies were inserted into chemicals and dissolved
 - 18. This burial involves removing the skull from the deceased and polishing it and keeping it at home
 - 19. South Korean people compress the remains of the deceased into these gem-like beads
 - 20. people aspire to be buried in coffins that represent their work or something they loved in life.
- Down
- 1. This Mongolian funeral ritual involves passing the body through a window, surrounding body with stones, and allowing dogs to consume the remains afterwards.
 - 2. In which funeral tradition are bodies usually found in the fetal position or flat

- 4. The Benguet of Northwestern Philippines practice this funeral tradition where the deceased are placed next to the entrance of the house
- 5. In Puerto Rico this death traditions involve having the corpse propped up in a chair with their eyes open
- 6. In this ritual in Australia, after the body was decomposed the liquid was then rubbed onto the children to pass on the deceased good qualities
- 7. Virtual pages that honor the memory of the deceased online
- 8. What is the practice called in Southwest China where wooden coffins are placed on the hill side
- 12. A funeral practice where the widowed woman would immolate themselves on their husbands funeral pyre
- 14. A practice in Tibet where a corpse is placed on a hilltop and is dismembered and left for scavengers