

Cutting Objectives

Across

- 2. _____ layers follow the head shape vertically and are typically used above the parietal ridge
- 3. Vertical distribution of weight within a haircut
- 6. Layers _____ weight from the hair
- 8. 90 degree or above creates this
- 10. Degree of movement towards or away from the face

Down

- 1. Which degree of elevation is typically used to maintain weight
- 4. What over direction is used to create a result that is shorter in the front and longer towards the back
- 5. What section angle assists you in building weight in a haircut
- 7. Length of the hair
- 9. Degree of lift placed o a section of hair