

Name: _____ Date: _____ Period: _____

Drugs

Across

3. What is meth short for?
4. The _____ controls our basic functions critical to life, such as heart rate, breathing and sleeping.
5. What drug causes hallucinations, perceptual anomalies, and other substantial subjective changes in thoughts, emotion, and consciousness?
6. Which drug is a powerful addictive stimulant drug that is made from leaves on a coca plant?
8. Which part of the brain allows us to control and regulate our ability to feel pleasure?

9. LSD is an extremely potent hallucinogen and stands for what?

10. Which part of the brain controls our senses and how people think?

Down

1. What kind of drug lowers neurotransmission levels, which are to depress or reduce arousal or stimulation?
2. People use this drug to get "high" off of by smoking it from blounts, bongos and joints.
7. This is a drug that increases neural activity in the brain and can temporarily elevate alertness, mood, and awareness.