

Name: _____

Date: _____

ECOLOGICAL RELATIONSHIP

Across

1. competition which occurs directly between individuals via aggression
2. a relationship in which one organism benefits and the other is not affected.
7. competition which occurs indirectly between two species which are both preyed upon by the same predator.
9. two organisms that live in the same environment have little or no effect on each other.
13. animal that is eaten
14. competition that occurs indirectly through a common limiting resource which acts as an intermediate

15. one organism secretes a chemical that kills the other organism, while the one that secreted them chemical is unharmed.

16. one organism benefits and one is hurt by the relationship.

17. competition between individuals of different species

Down

3. a larger or more powerful organism excludes another organism from its source of shelter or food.

4. animal which hunts and kills prey

5. competition among members of the same species,

6. relationship between organisms in which one species is harmed or inhibited and the other species is unaffected

8. relationship that exist when both organisms benefit from the relationship

10. an organism composed algae and fungus which are both beneficial to each other

11. describes a biological interaction where a predator (an organism that is hunting) feeds on its prey (the organism that is attacked).

12. a situation in which 2 different organisms live together in close association.