

EXECUTIVE BRANCH

Across

- 7. How many positions or executive departments does cabinet consist of?
- 10. Once vice president replaces president who would be next in line if he is unable?
- 14. Official ceremony that president is sworn in?
- 17. Once you announce your candidacy for president you must file papers with who?
- 19. Presidential candidate must win the majority or at least how many electoral votes?

Down

- 1. Minimum age to run for president?
- 2. What is a pep rally for the election, each party holds?

- 3. Who is the vice president of the senate?
- 4. What amendment covers what to do if president becomes vacant or unable to perform duties?
- 5. All appointments made by the president are approved by who?
- 6. Who is responsible for replacing the president if necessary?
- 8. Formal requirements for the vice president is the same as the president? true or false
- 9. What day of the National Convention is the president and vice president revealed?
- 11. You must be born where, to run for president?

- 12. So the political party can narrow down to one candidate they hold a?
- 13. The head of each executive department is appointed by who?
- 15. Once papers are filed with Federal Election Commission, candidate is referred to as?
- 16. Elections for president and vice president are held every how many years?
- 18. What month is the inauguration?