

Eating Disorders

Across

2. A person who suffers from bulimia may have decaying teeth due to the acid from _____

4. Another word for vomit. To rid yourself of something.

6. Many people who suffer from eating disorders not only have an unhealthy obsession with food, but are also obsessed with this activity to help them burn calories.

9. People with anorexia have an obsession with this.

11. One of the influences that could cause someone to develop an eating disorder. False advertisements, use of photoshop, places unrealistic expectations on appearance.

12. People who are malnourished will typically grow this on their bodies to help regulate their body temperatures.

Down

1. This disorder is characterized by uncontrollably eating large amounts of food at once, then accompanied by extreme feelings of guilt/disgust.

3. This disorder is characterized by extreme obsession with weight, restricting calories/food intake, extreme exercising and can be deadly.

5. People with eating disorders typically have very low _____.

7. Many times people who suffer from severe eating disorders prefer to be _____ in fear of being judged/shamed.

8. A person who suffers from this disorder may force themselves to throw up, or take laxatives to rid themselves of the food they eat.

10. Many disorders if left untreated can result in this (the ultimate consequence).