

Elements of Fiction!

Across

4. Introduces the main characters and setting
 5. What type of figurative language is this? I am so hungry I can eat a horse
 7. This type of character stays the same through the book
 9. This type of character changes through the book
 10. What type of figurative language is this? The turtle tumbled two times
 13. This is the teaching point the author wants to leave the reader feeling. It is a sentence long.

14. What is this figurative language? Boom!

15. What is this figurative language? The meal was a rainbow of flavors.

16. Resolution of main conflict

17. Series of mini conflicts before the climax

18. Last moment for the reader to guess how the main conflict is resolved

19. The point at which the reader recognizes the main conflict

Down

1. What type of figurative language is this? The car danced across the icy road.

2. Through dialogue and interaction a character's traits are revealed

3. Author tells you a character's trait

6. Wrapping up of loose ends, conclusion

8. What type of figurative language is this? John runs as fast as lightning

11. The attitude the author has towards the writing

12. The feeling the reader gets while reading