

Endocrine Crossword Puzzle

Across

2. Patients on anti-thyroid medications should be educated to maintain a low ____ diet.
3. The production of gastric acid comes from what cell?
6. Laxative stimulants have the potential to cause:
8. How many distinct lobes does the pituitary gland have?
10. What is the subcutaneous injection that should be given to an unconscious patient with hypoglycemia?
13. Syrup of Ipecac can be used to induce:

14. When a patient is prescribed corticosteroids, it is important for the nurse to educate the patient to monitor their:

15. Insulin is produced by what organ?
16. The nurse should educate their patient taking a Protein Pump Inhibitor to take this medication before:
17. The adrenal gland secretes important:

Down

1. Scopolamine blocks acetylcholine, this is an example of what type of antiemetic?

4. The generic name for the thyroid replacement drug is:
5. Sleepiness, sweating, and lack of coordination are signs of:

7. Type one diabetics are dependent on:
9. Insulin removes glucose from the:
11. What medication's MOA decreases glucose production in the liver, decreases glucose absorption in the intestines, and increases insulin receptor uptake in the muscle?
12. It is important to educate a patient who is on a thyroid replacement drug to take the medication before: