

Name: _____

Date: _____

Evolution Vocab Quiz

Across

2. a technique used when breeding organisms that have desired traits which a breeder will want to preserve.

10. the concept that individuals that are best selected for an environment have higher chances of reproducing to pass on traits

Down

1. as organisms reproduce, slight changes in traits are passed down to offspring creating variation

3. organisms better adapted to their environment tend to survive and reproduce.

4. groups of individuals belonging to the same species that live in the same region at the same time.

5. organisms are thought to have developed and diversified from earlier forms during the history of the earth.

6. largest group of organisms where two individuals are capable of reproducing fertile offspring

7. observable characteristics of an individual resulting from its genotype and environment

8. the genetic contribution of an individual to the next generation's gene pool relative to the average for the population.

9. the process of change by which an organism or species becomes better suited to its environment