

Exam 1 Study Guide

Across

2. The central policies of this perspective on justice include diversion, decarceration, and decriminalization.

5. The justice perspective that sees the justice system as serving as a mechanism of caring for and treating people who cannot manage themselves, and assumes people are at the mercy of social, economic, and interpersonal conditions.

8. The stage of the criminal justice process where formal charges are read and an initial plea is entered.

9. Behavior patterns are modeled and learned in interactions with others.

10. Guilty mind.

11. Human behavior is shaped by interpersonal conflict, and those who maintain social power use it to further their own interests.

12. Criminal law reflect the values of people who use their social and political power to shape the legal system.

Down

1. The view that extreme social and economic differences among people living in the same community exacerbate criminal activity.

3. The view that deteriorated communities serve as a magnet for criminals and attract criminal activity.

4. The constitutional amendment that bars illegal searches and seizures by police.

6. The constitutional amendment that limits the accessibility of confessions that have been obtained unfairly.

7. A personal injury or wrong for which an action for damages may be brought.