

Experiential Family Therapy: Virginia Satir

Across

- 2. Comment on literal content and on the nature of the relationship between the persons involved
- 5. Satir believed humans are all ____, interdependent, unique beings.
- 6. Literal content
- 11. All communication occurs in ____.
- 12. When one person in a family has emotional pain that shows up as a symptom, ____ family members feel this pain in some way.
- 14. Two or more messages are sent via different levels and seriously contradict each other.
- 17. What society calls sick, crazy, stupid, or bad behavior is really an attempt on the part of the ____ person to signal the presence of trouble and call for help.
- 18. Flitting about, being silly, in some way drawing attention from the subject under discussion.

- 19. Virginia Satir: The ____ of Family Therapy
- 21. Person is congruent, competent, and appropriate.
- 22. People are limited only by the extent of their ____.
- 23. Family ____ : client describes family members to group and members act as family members according to how client described them.

Down

- 1. Every individual is geared to survival, growth, and getting close to others, and all behavior expresses these aims, no matter how ____ it may look.
- 3. Satir developed the process of ____ family therapy.
- 4. Intellectualizing, perhaps with arms crossed or nose in the air suggesting this person just knows better.
- 7. Differentness must be openly ____ and used for growth.
- 8. Each person should be addressed and related to in terms of his/her ____.

- 9. Hand on shoulder, gentle holding of client's hand, assurance of human touch.
- 10. Two or more messages are sent via different levels, but none of these messages seriously contradicts any other.
- 13. Down-on-one-knee, begging-for-acceptance.
- 15. Allowing client to place family members around the room, representing things like how close or distant client feels from each member.
- 16. Standing over the other person with an angry grimace and finger pointing.
- 20. Satir saw the family as a ____ for the larger world.

Word Bank

- | | | | |
|-------------|--------------|-------------------|-----------------|
| KNOWLEDGE | AUTONOMOUS | IRRELEVANT | RECONSTRUCTION |
| INCONGRUENT | BLAMING | AFFLICTED | UNIQUENESS |
| DENOTATIVE | ACKNOWLEDGED | MOTHER | SUPERREASONABLE |
| CONJOINT | CONGRUENT | METACOMMUNICATIVE | DISTORTED |
| SCULPTING | LEVELING | PLACATING | MICROCOSM |
| NURTURANCE | ALL | CONTEXT | |