

Forensic

Across

- 4. A place where a murder was committed.
- 5. A disorder where an adult or older adolescent have sexual attraction towards children.
- 8. An act of forcefully taking a person against their own will.
- 10. Facts or information on whether a belief is true or valid.

11. The examination of a structure of something.

12. A type of science that study and uses techniques, technologies of physic, chemistry, and biology to examine physical evidence in a crime scene.

Down

1. It's used to identify an individual's unique pattern of whorls and lines.

2. The killing of a person by another.

3. When a victim starts to have respect and empathy towards the abuser.

6. A red liquid that carries oxygen and carbon dioxide to the body.

7. A person that saw a crime scene.

9. A material in which every living organism has.