

Four Temperaments

Across

- 3. Element represented for a person who tends towards sensitivity, emotion and calmness
- 4. Element which is representative of a person who tends towards a social personality
- 8. This person is quite reserved, rigid and has a habit of falling into routines.
- 9. Element for a person who is dominant and tend towards being leaders
- 10. This temperament type tends to care for others and are relaxed

Down

- 1. Fill in the blank space :One of the reasons for understanding personality types is to create a _____ classroom environment.
- 2. This temperament has a tendency of making multiple friends and enjoying company
- 5. Element represented for a person who tends towards perfection
- 6. True or false: People can only fall under one type of temperament and their personality types will not overlap
- 7. This person is very goal-oriented