

GI/GU

Across

2. protrusion of the viscus through an abnormal opening
6. _____modification; first assessment in obesity
8. fruit good for diarrhea
11. severe referred pain, vomiting
13. costovertebral tenderness is a sign of this type of infection
15. priority intervention in urinary retention
16. instrument for measuring post void residual
20. take on empty stomach, do not crush or chew, treatment for peptic ulcer
21. number one hospital acquired infection
26. type (#) of hypersensitivity to latex (four)
27. biologic agent requiring consumption of all antibiotics
33. bacteria causing acute and chronic gastritis and is treated with antibiotics and PPI
34. requires clear liquid diet day before procedure
36. priority in severe vomiting, hypotension, hemoptosis
37. disorder characterized by chronic abdominal pain/discomfort
39. avoid acidic foods, keep HOB up on 4-6 inch blocks; don't eat 2-3 hours before bedtime
44. type of urinary surgery designed to bypass the bladder
45. complication of crohns that results in tan, fecal smelling urine

46. type of urinary incontinence where urine flow will not stop once started
48. requires soap and water to clean up
49. intervention to remove radioactive dust
50. medication for BPH that causes sexual dysfunction
52. always check for swelling in anaphylactic shock
53. rash on hands, feet; highly contagious, long incubation
54. NG tube intervention

Down

1. number one pathogen responsible for UTI
3. all ostomies have a _____ care nurse
4. excellent source of purine
5. what _____ led to your obesity
7. _____ output is priority measure after lithotripsy
9. type of subtotal gastric resection performed for peptic ulcer disease
10. type of precaution for smallpox
12. medication for constipation requiring lots of water
14. required for emergency preparedness plan to work 17. characterized by severe edema
18. _____ cc or above; normal urine output per hour
19. complication of rapid IV infusion
22. absent peristalsis in the lower 2/3 of the esophagus
23. herniation of a portion of the stomach into the esophagus

24. type of influenza requiring quarantine of patients and staff
25. delerium, rectal impaction, infection, polyuria
28. eliminating pain is the priority for this condition
29. collection of this is the goal in straining urine in renal calculi
30. best post abdominal surgery intervention
31. medication to ease bladder mucosa
32. intervention for sacral decubitus
35. _____ chest wound is a medical emergency requiring priority intervention
38. encapsulated tumor
40. used for daily bowel movement
41. a disease that can involve any portion of the GI tract from the mouth to the anus
42. preferred method of feeding comatose patients
43. syndrome that occurs thirty minutes after a meal that causes cramping
47. front to back to prevent UTI
51. requires three way catheter irrigation