

Gasket Engineering Glossary

Across

2. a plan for correcting a process or part quality issue
 4. documents such as control plans, inspection results, gauge and inspection equipment verifications and calibrations
 7. a system of people, equipment, methods, materials, and environment that produces a product
 8. written descriptions of the system for controlling processes

9. a quantity of a product produced under similar conditions so that the products within the lot are expected to be homogenous in all significant attributes
 11. characteristics of a part/process, which can be measured
 12. the difference between the upper and lower specification limits

Down

1. specific occurrences of a condition, which does not meet applicable standards

3. what controls the customers most recent blue print specifications
 5. the process of measuring, examining, testing, gauging, or otherwise comparing one or more units of product with the applicable requirements
 6. material meets the customer's specifications and requirements
 10. a static seal made from deformable sheet material sandwiched and compressed between two mating plane surfaces