

Geography and Architecture

Across

2. something from the Middle Ages, or something so backwards that it might as well be from the Middle Ages

3. the mood or setting of a place

7. able to reproduce the original in all likeness

12. the upper surface of a room

14. arch with a pointed apex; characteristic of Gothic architecture

15. characterized by simple geometric forms in design and decoration

17. a thin flat slab of fired clay used for floors, ceiling, walls, and roofs

18. the surface at the very bottom, or base, of a room

19. concerning or characterized by an appreciation of beauty or good taste

20. something of many parts that is put together

Down

1. something that represents something else that's more abstract

4. An arch is a shape that resembles an upside down "U."

5. architecture Architecture is the process, or profession, of designing buildings and their environments

6. something that is made to do a specific job

8. the branch of architecture dealing with the arrangement of land and buildings for human use and enjoyment

9. reduced to the simplest and most significant form possible without loss of generality

10. a plan-of-attack, especially when that plan-of-attack is used repeatedly

11. something that is characterized by mystery, horror, and gloom

13. corridor A long hallway, especially one that has rooms opening up into it

16. Buddhist, Hindu, and Asian