

Name: _____

Date: _____

Hair Coloring

- | | |
|--|------------------------|
| 1. The medical term for gray hair is | A. Presoftening |
| 2. Increases the porosity of the hair, opening the cuticle, allowing for more pigment to be absorbed | B. Alkanolamines |
| 3. Is created when one or more atoms combine and retain their chemical and physical properties to form matter | C. Molecule |
| 4. Studies substances that do not contain carbon and are not living or alive | D. Law of Color |
| 5. Is the rapid oxidation of any substance, accompanied by the production of heat and light | E. Line of Demarcation |
| 6. Are used to neutralize acids or raise the pH | F. Inorganic Chemistry |
| 7. Is a system that provides the understanding of color relationships | G. Metallic Dye |
| 8. Is the strength of the color's appearance, which is determined by the tone's degree of saturation and purity of light | H. Canities |
| 9. Is a visible line or band between two haircolors, artificial and/or natural | I. Combustion |
| 10. Also known as Gradual Dye, are products that contain metals that produce various colors | J. Intensity |