

Name: _____ Date: _____ Period: _____

Hatchet

Across

2. A relatively narrow projecting part as a horizontal shelf-like projection.
 6. A vertical blade of a vessel that can be turned horizontally to change the direction of the vessel.
 7. A vast nearly level treeless plain of anorectic region.
 8. A shack or shed supported at one side by trees or post.
 9. To make explosive popping or sizzling sounds; to utter or spit out sounds.

Word Bank

Transmitter	Quills	Insane	Rudder	Wiry
Sputtered	Cro-Magnon	Ledge	Lean-to	Tundra

10. (of a person) Lean, tough and sinewy

Down

1. Upper paleolithic population of humans; Prototype of modern man.
 3. One of the large feathers of the wing or tail of a bird; Large hollow spines of a porcupine.
 4. Part of a telegraphic or telephonic device that converts sound waves into electric waves.
 5. Not sound of mind; mentally deranged.