

Name: _____

Date: _____

Health Science

Across

6. A disease that is native to a local region.

7. Pair of genes seen on a chromosome that make up a trait; one from mother and one from father

10. A branch of medicine that uses images to diagnose and treat disease seen inside the body

11. Used to assess the patient; can be seen and/or measured

12. A disease that spreads to many individuals at the same time.

13. Signs that are essential to life; include temperature, pulse, respiration, and blood pressure

Down

1. A branch of medicine that focuses on enchantment or restoring function and quality of life

2. A branch of medicine that works with conditions involving the skeletal and muscular systems

3. Used to assess the patient; are described by the patient

4. The expression of genes seen on any trait, for example eye color.

5. Traits that only appear when the genes are inherited from both parents

8. Worldwide epidemic that affects large geographic regions.

9. Traits that appear even when only one gene is inherited