

Humanities Terms

Across

1. The final revelation in a drama, in which everything becomes clear

5. Comic exaggeration or the art of creating one

7. Having a dull or lusterless surface

15. A sudden realization, intuitive perception, or into the reality or meaning of something

16. An image or symbol that is used repeatedly

17. A monologue used in plays to allow the character's thoughts and ideas to be heard by the audience

18. The quality of having infinite knowledge

19. A play or other literary work that combines both tragedy and comedy

Down

2. A piece of writing or music that is a spoof or satirical imitation of a serious literary work or composition

3. An emotional release of psychological purging of emotional tensions

4. A drama interspersed with music or spoken words with musical accompaniment

6. The leading character or hero of a literary work

8. The process of making prints with a plate

9. A symbolic work in which the characters and events are supposed to be understood and representing other things with a deeper meaning

10. Painted or created with only one color

11. Beauty based on or characterized by excellence of balanced proportions

12. Pride or excessive ambition

13. A picture or decoration made with small colored pieces of stone, glass, or other materials

14. The outward appearance or the way something looks ; also known as the study of the rules and principles of art