IT Terminology

Across

2. a small device invented in the 1990's mostly used by business people before smartphones were invented

6. a program that allows you to view webpages on your computer

8. in your web browser, these are usually underlined or are a different colour so you know to click on them

9. Moto Z phones are made by this company

11. two or more connected computers that can communicate and share files

14. use of devices that are portable and communicate wirelessly

15. short form for uniform resource locator (web address)

17. he name of the e-mail software installed on most Windows PCs

19. an enormous network of millions of computers

20. The name for a large network that covers several buildings, a city or a country

21. the name of the company that makes the top recommended Android phone

Down

1. 18 different models of this product have been sold since it's launch in June 2007

3. the name of the folder where your e-mail messages arrive

4. e-mail is the short form for this

5. a private network that can only be accessed by a group of people with special permissions

7. A Canadian company created this brand of PDA, nicknamed "the handheld office"

10. a single web document containing text, links, pictures and other multimedia

12. a collection of webpages

13. he part of the internet that contains viewable content such as webpages

16. Also known as favourites, these are web pages you have saved to view later

18. allows mobile devices to connect