

Name: _____

Date: _____

Iconic US Foods

Across

- 3. A hot dog made famous in Washington D.C. that is served with herbs, chili sauce, and onions
- 7. You'd be amiss to travel through Kansas City without trying this sweet and smoky barbecued meat
- 9. This open-faced sandwich made with turkey and bacon was invented in Louisville nearly 100 years ago
- 15. This condiment of pickled vegetables is put on nearly everything in Chicago
- 18. Trenton, NJ is known for these stacks of minced ham
- 19. Albuquerque is known for this traditional Mexican dish of stuffed peppers
- 20. Over 2 million pounds of this Cincinnati dish are eaten every year
- 23. This Tennessee dish is fried and prepared with an insane amount of pepper until it is dark red in color and spicy in flavor
- 24. This appetizer was invented by mistake when a St. Louis chef dropped a piece

25. The official dessert of Massachusetts

26. Springfield, IL is best known for this sandwich that consists of a large slice of bread, a hamburger patty, and a mound of fries all smothered in cheese sauce

Down

- 1. In Milwaukee you can tell if these fried appetizers are fresh by their characteristic squeak
- 2. It's practically sacrilege to visit Philadelphia without getting one of these iconic sandwiches
- 4. New Orleans is known for this chowder made from seafood and a variety of other ingredients
- 5. Californians are fiercely proud of this simple trendy breakfast item that that can be prepared in a variety of ways
- 6. stuffed pasta in the deep fryer
- 8. This dish is Hawaii's version of Japanese sashimi
- 10. This sandwich served on a split top bun is native to Maine due to an abundance of the key ingredient

11. Baltimore is known for this fried seafood dish, often seasoned with Old Bay

12. This sandwich is deemed as the unofficial sandwich of New York and rose in popularity among delis in the early 1900's

13. Austin is known for this Mexican street food staple

14. Minneapolis is known for this burger that has a melted cheese core

16. This citrus pie was made popular in the southernmost tip of Florida

17. Layers of ham and pork, with Swiss cheese pickles and mustard make up the official sandwich of Tampa, FL

21. This sandwich emerged from the working class of New Orleans and is typically filled with fried seafood

22. New York City is known for this bread product, just add a schmear