

Industry/Development 1

Across

2. A process involving the clustering or concentrating of people or activities. The term often refers to manufacturing plants and businesses that benefit from close proximity because they share skilled-labor pools and technological and financial amenities.

3. The expansion of economic, political, and cultural processes to the point that they became global in scale and impact; transcends state boundaries and have outcomes that vary across places and scales.

10. The effect of distance on interaction, generally the greater the distance the less interaction.

11. A state in which things are improving, making progress in technology, production, and socioeconomic welfare.

12. A state in which things are improving, making progress in technology, production, and socioeconomic welfare.

13. With reference to production, to turn over in part or in total to a third party.

14. Process by which companies move industrial jobs to other regions with cheaper labor, leaving the region to switch to a service economy and to work through a period of high unemployment.

15. System of standardized mass production attributed to Henry Ford.

Down

1. The entrenchment of the colonial order, such as trade and investment, under a new guise.

4. The term given to zones in northern Mexico with factories supplying manufactured goods to the U.S. market.

5. The process of industrial deconcentration in response to technological advances and/or increasing costs due to congestion and competition.

6. The stock of basic facilities and capital equipment needed for the functioning of a country or area.

7. Areas that dominate trade, control the most advanced technologies, and have high levels of productivity within diversified economics.

8. A commercial center where goods are received for distribution, transshipment, or repackaging.

9. A form of tourism that supports the conservation and sustainable development of ecologically unique areas.

Word Bank

Neocolonialism

Agglomeration

Maquiladora

Distance Decay

Fordism

Infrastructure

Development

Core Region

Ecotourism

Outsourcing

Deglomeration

Entrepot

Deindustrialization

Development

Globalization